chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and exerctory functions of the intestinal clands.

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Scal root. Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin 25. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D. and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land. Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

NELSON LOOSES FIGHT. Battling Nelson lost yesterday's fight in Goldfield, Nev., by fouling Joe Gans in the forty-second round of the best and longest bight seen in many years. Both men were tired when the fight ended, but Gans was apparently the stronger. He was away ahead on points and had smashed and cut Nelson all through the fight, without being severely hart himself. Shortly after the forty-second round began the men were in their usual clinch. Nelson had his head on Gans' shoulder Nelson had his hear on Gans shoulder and his arm down. Several times he hit Gans below the belt, apparently feel-ing for a vital spot. At last he drew back his right arm and hit Gains a vicious blow square in the groin. The colored boy sank to his knees and rolled over on his back. Referee Siler without hestitation ordered Nelson to his corner and awarded the fight to Gans on a foul Siler's decision received almost unani-nous approval. The foul was so obvious that not even men who bet on Nelson could say that it could not have been committed. All though the contest Nelson had employed rough tactics, repeatedly butted Gans and had to have his not say that the foul was intentional, there was no doubt that it had been committed. Nelson, he said, had employed his usual tactics all through the fight, and while he knew that Nelson was butting whenever he had an opportunity, he did not disqualify him for that because he saw that it was not hurting Gans, and because no other referee had dis-qualified Nelson for doing the same thing. Besides, the people were there to see the fight, and he did not want to disappoint

Siler was loudly cheered as he left the ring, as was Gans, who was carried to his dressing-room. Nelson and his seconds were hissed as they departed. Billy Nolan, Nelson's manager, made a disconnecter statement, in which he said that Gans had promised not to claim the decision on a foul, and yet he jump-ed at the first opportunity to make such a claim. All Nelson would say was that Gans was tired and quit.

derful when it is known that in the thirty-third round he broke his right hand. Never after did he strike a blow with it, with the exception of a few short arm jolts while clinching. He did all his work with the left hand. Gans' generalship was shown when he broke the hand. In the thirty-third round he lauded a hard right-hand punch on the side of Nelson's face. A bone in the hand snapped and Gans stepped back with an expression of pain. He limped around as though he had hurt a foot, and no one realized that he had injured the right the foul. It is hardly probable, ever, that the men will meet again in that time. Gaus explained his method by saying that he did not want to box Nelson for fear of tiring himself. He found early in the game that he could protect himself in clinches, and also real zed that the exertion in fighting that way was much less than if he stood back and did some showy boxing. He was hitting Nelson all the time and maneuvering to make the Dane do most of the work.

and only at intervals was there a rally. Although Gans was far ahead of Nelson in points and most of the time looked liked a sure winner, Nelson put up a wonderful fight on his side. The endurance and recuperative powers shown by Nelson were extraordinary. Time and again Gans would jolt him on the jaw, sending the Dane back. His knees would bend and his eyes become glazed, but he always fell into a clinch and held on, and would the come back fighting as hard as ever in his peculiar style. The minute's rest at the corner always did him good, and he would come up fresh and strong. On nearly half a dozen oc-cassions, when it seemed another blow would put the white boy out, the gong

On several occasions Nelson apparently had the advantage. He would hit Gaus as they broke from a clinch and the colored boy would hang on and ians fought a remarkably clean fight. He was fair in everything, and twice when he knocked Nelson down, picked with his hands down waiting for Nelson to steady himself Nelson gave him a vicious blow in the atomsch. Nelson was roundly hissed for this by the crowd-

The attendance was about 5,000, although estimates were made as high as 8,500. The Goldfield Athletic Club arrangements were perfect. There was not a hitch of any kind, and the fight could be seen from any portion of the arens. About 200 women were present.

Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish inversal bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Elling wood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. "It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal estimates and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, the in most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pytosis cheartburn and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretary and excretory functions of the intestinal splanes."
